

Risk Disclaimer

A note regarding possible risks is intended to inform our clients of the potential risks associated with trading in foreign currencies. This clause is appended to the “User Agreement”.

Significant risk is inherent when trading in foreign currencies, carried out on the basis of immediate settlements, forwards, day trading and options. Before making a deposit and beginning to trade on the LexaTrade server, you should first examine your financial situation. Only trade with capital that is not essential for your life and well-being. This is due to the fact that any trade operations with foreign currency may incur partial or total losses.

You should familiarize yourself with all of the information on the LexaTrade website associated with any possible risks arising from foreign exchange trading.

You should not rely solely on the information posted on the LexaTrade website regarding forecasts and exchange rates at the time of review. LexaTrade is not responsible for actions taken on the basis of the information provided. The information provided on the website does not reduce trading risks, it is simply stated to inform.

IMPORTANT: The use of the trade service is prohibited for citizens of USA, Canada, Australia, Israel, Turkey and Japan.

The Client agrees that all relations between the Client and the Company will be settled by agreement. If necessary, the parties are entitled to sign additional agreements supplementing mutual rights and obligations.

The agreement is valid in the presence of the signature of the Client and the representative of the Company, approved by the seal of the Company. Any agreement signed by an unqualified person or not containing the Company’s seal are invalid, and the Company is not liable for the agreement.

With this agreement, the Client confirms familiarization and acceptance of possible risks and is aware of his responsibility in conducting trading operations on the Company’s service.
